

Wit and Humor.

THE VERY LARGEST FER.—During the summer of '40, says the Knickerbocker, corn being scarce in the upper country, and one of the citizens being hard pressed for bread, having worn threads bare the hospitality of his generous neighbors by his extreme laicess, they thought it a sacrifice of charity to bury him.—Accordingly, he was carried towards the place of interment, and being met by one of the citizens, the following conversation took place:

"Hallow! what have you there?"

"Poor old Mr. S."

"What are you going to do with him?"

"Bury him!"

"What? is he dead? I hadn't heard of his death?"

"No, he is not dead, but might as well be, for he has no corn, and he is too lazy to work for any."

"That is too cruel for civilized people, I'll give two bushels of corn myself rather than see him buried alive."

Mr. S. raised the cover, and asked in a dragging tone, "Is it all-right?"

"No, but you can shell it."

"Drive on boys?"

THE BIBLE.

It is a book of laws, to show the right and wrong.

It is a book of wisdom, that condemns all folly and makes the foolish wise.

It is a book of truth, that detects all errors.

It is a book of life, that shows the way from everlasting death.

It is the most compendious book in all the world.

It is the most authentic and entertaining history that ever was published.

It contains the most ancient antiquities, remarkable events, and wonderful occurrences.

It points out the most heroic deeds and unparalleled wars.

It describes the celestial and lower world.

It is a book of lives. It is a book of travels. It is a book of voyages.

It is the best covenant that ever was sealed.

It is the best testament that ever was signed.

It is wisdom to understand it; to be ignorant of it is to be awfully destitute.

It is the magistrates best rule.

It is the housewife's best guide, and the servant's best instructor.

It is the schoolboy's spelling book.

It is the learned man's masterpiece.

It is the ignorant man's directory, and wise man's directory.

It encourages the wise, the benevolent, and him that is meek and lowly in heart.

And that which crowns all, is, that the author, "With whom there is no variableness, neither shadow of turning, is God."
